AFTERNOON SEMINAR

Surviving the present – Innovate for the future

Surviving the present – Innovate for the future will explore changes required in the short-term to adapt to low profitability in the industry, as well as the reasons to be positive about mid- to longer-term prospects for Australian wine.

Speakers will look at the role innovation plays in creating the future; business models for surviving and thriving; retail opportunities now and in the future; and the potential for market-based, winegrape-price determination in the sector.

This seminar will consist of a brief presentation by four invited speakers, followed by an expert panel for Q&A's.

Invited speakers

Louisa Rose (AWRI Chair)

Jeff McDonald (Collaborative Ventures)

Shane Tremble (Woolworths Liquor Group)

Rob Hunt (Agricultural Consultant)
