Work Health and Safety Act 2012

Health and Safety Representatives Bridging Training 2013

The South Australian Work Health and Safety Act 2012 came into effect on 1 January 2013 and as a consequence all Health and Safety Representatives (HSR) who completed their Level 1 training under the former South Australian Occupational Health, Safety and Welfare Act 1986 must complete a one day "bridging training" program to ensure that they continue to perform their duties as HSR's under the new legislation.

The South Australian Wine Industry Association (SAWIA) in conjunction with the Motor Trade Association of SA (a registered training organisation) are presenting a series of one day "bridging training" sessions in South Australian wine regions to enable existing HSR's to identify changes introduced by the new work health and safety laws.

Health and Safety Representative who completed their HSR Level 1 training – BEFORE 1 January 2013 must attend a "bridging training" course to enable them to continue to exercise the full functions of their role

SAWIA will be conducting one day "HSR Bridging Training" in South Australian wine regions from 28 May through to 1 October 2013.

Leave the seminar with:

- Context of legislative changes (WHS harmonisation)
- Objects and principles of the Act
- Codes of practice under harmonised laws
